CHILL'S CRUISER.

Finds Cold Comfort
in Lisbon.

THE IRISH LEADERS RELEASED.

Will Not Lead the Parnell
Party.Russia's Friendship For the French.

Chill's Cruiser.

By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, July 30.—The Congressional party of Chill, through its representatives, has appealed to the Portuguese government not to allow Portuguese subjects to embark on the new Balmaceda war vessel, President Errazuriz. The government has not yet replied to the communication.

It is stated that the British Charge d'Affaires has declared if he is not allowed to see Englishmen who are supposed to be on board the Chilean war vessel, he will have them forcibly released by a British war ship when the President Errazuriz reaches the open sea and is no longer under the protection which Portuguese waters afford her.

It is asserted that the President Errazuriz will sail to-day. Her commander yesterday promised to leave Lisbon immediately if his pursuer, who was arrested for enlisting men for Balmaceda service, was released. This request was refused.

Friendship for the French.

By Cable and Associated Press.
ST. PETERSBURG, July 30.—The Mayor and municipal authorities last evening banqueted the French officers at Townhall. All vessels in the harbor and houses along the route to Townhall were profusely decorated. The streets were thronged with people and the Frenchmen received extraordinary ovations. Among the guests were the Russian Ministers, foreign diplomatic representatives and other notables. The usual toasts were drunk. The Mayor presented silver souvenirs to the Frenchmen.

PARIS, July 30.—The Russian government has decorated Admiral Vignes and Commandant Levebvre, chief of staff and second officer, respectively, of the French Ministry of Marine.

Church in Court.

By Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, July 30.—This morning Judge Hamilton decided the injunction case against the Evangelical Association. He enjoined the Board of Publication from making up deficiencies in the salaries of Bishops Esher and Bowman or paying money to Illinois, Des Moines and Oregon. On the Platte River conference the court found the expulsion of Bishops Esher and Bowman according to church discipline and that there is no evidence of prejudice or fraud on the part of the trial conference. The decision is a decided victory for the minority faction.

Persecuting the Jews.

By Associated Press.
BOSTON, July 30.—The Russian Jews who arrived yesterday tell pitiful stories of the cruelties of Russian officers who ordered all the inhabitants of the town of Slobotki to leave their homes. They became so enraged at this wholesale injustice that they set fire to their houses and destroyed them. For this many were sent to Siberia and others were subjected to horrible cruelties. One man was suspended by the wrists for two hours.

A Broken Broker.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 30.—John C. Avery, investment broker, representing the Fort Worth Land Company and other western landed enterprises, failed to-day. It is believed the failure is consequent upon the failure of the Berkeley Extension Land Company, in which Avery was a large stockholder. Assets and liabilities unknown.

Omaha Bridge.

By Associated Press.
OMAHA, July 30.—The Union Pacific this morning granted the Rock Island and Milwaukee the use of the bridge track until the new rules and schedule are completed.

Weather Report.

Special to the GAZETTE.
SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Forecast, fair weather.

Irish Leaders Released.

By Cable and Associated Press.
DUBLIN, July 30.—Messrs. William O'Brien and John Dillon, the two Irish members of Parliament who have been undergoing sentences of six months imprisonment for inciting tenants of the Smith-Barry estate at Tipperary to resist the payment of rents, were released from the Galway jail this morning. Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien showed but slight trace of having suffered from the rigors of confinement in jail, and, in fact seemed to be enjoying most perfect health.

Large crowds of people gathered outside of the jail long before the hour set for the deliverance of the two imprisoned Irish leaders, and when the latter did appear they were greeted with loud shouts of "Stick to Parnell," "Intermixed with others of 'Down with Parnell.'"

Many addresses of congratulation upon their release were offered. After replying briefly to the addresses of welcome and shaking hands with a number of the most prominent people present, both Dillon and O'Brien entered Mrs. William O'Brien's carriage and were driven, followed by repeated cheers and showers of good wishes to the residence of Bishop McCormack, where the entire party were entertained at breakfast. The released prisoners and their families will start for this city during the afternoon.

LONDON, July 30.—The Exchange Telegraph Company says Dillon and O'Brien declared they cannot again accept Parnell's leadership.

Railroad Wrecks.

By Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE (Ky.), July 30.—A freight train on the Cincinnati Southern was derailed near the high bridge this morning. Five cars went down the embankment. It is reported two brakemen were killed. A wrecking train sent to its assistance collided with another freight train. The engines and a large number of cars were smashed. William Kinley, a fireman, was killed and engineer Ben Carroll was hurt. The wreck is now rapidly burning and the loss will be very heavy.

Brazil Appoints.

By Cable and Associated Press.
RIO JANEIRO, July 30.—A commission of eight members to have charge of the Brazilian exposition at the Columbian Exposition has been appointed. Among them is Professor Orville Derby who accompanied Agassiz in his geological survey of Brazil.

Railway Receiver.

By Associated Press.
AUSTIN (Tex.), July 30.—The Attorney General has filed an application for a receiver for the Texas Grand Trunk Railway. Already a suit is pending for the forfeiture of the company's charter for failure to keep the road in good condition.

Colliery Fire.

By Associated Press.
ASHLAND (Pa.), July 30.—The fire in the Lehigh Company's No. 5 Colliery at Lost Creek is still burning. The town itself is destroyed. The men expect to have it under control by to-night.

Early Hope.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 30.—The first bale of the new crop of hops grown in California is received. The quality is very fine, and sold at 75c per pound.

AUSTIN IN RUINS.

Thirteen Years and Thirteen Days After the Water Spout of 1878.

The People's Advocate gives an account of the havoc made to the town of Austin on Tuesday, and says: Thousands of tons of bowlders, from small ones to five tons, are strewn the full length of Main street. The city railroad track iron is washed up and bent into all shapes. Cellars are filled and the whole of Main street, from the Manhattan to Clifton, is a mass of ruins. The Austin Water Co. lost a large portion of its main supply pipe, which will cut off one-half of the former water supply, and Agent Foster informs us that his company is damaged $1,000.

No lives were lost, but several made narrow escapes and the damage is placed at from $10,000 to $15,000.

The Sagehen Season.

The close season for sagehen under the law approved March 23, 1891, expires on the 1st of August, next Saturday. Hunters have already been nosing around locating flocks of the game, and there will soon be a dearth of these toothsome birds. They are quite plentiful in the hills surrounding Virginia, and will soon be a drug in the market. Ducks, geese and quail are reported abundant, but the law for such game does not expire until September.

Answer to Inquirer.

The big fire which destroyed the greater part of Reno, occurred on Sunday morning, March 2nd, 1879, starting at 5:30 o'clock and burned for about six hours.

Episcopal Church Notice.

Mr. A. T. Gesner will hold services both morning and evening on Sunday next August 2nd., at Trinity Church. All are invited.

DEMOCRATS OF MY MARYLAND.

Cherokees Will Elect a Chief
To-morrow.Samoa Matters Are Reported Peaceful.

Maryland Democrats.

By Associated Press.
BALTIMORE, July 30.—Senator Gorman is not present at the State Democratic Convention to-day, but remained in Washington. The convention is none the less enthusiastic and is responding enthusiastically to frequent calls for three cheers for Gorman. Hon. Barnes Compton, Chairman of the State Central Committee, called the convention to order. Ex-Governor Henry Lloyd was selected chairman of the preliminary organization, which being completed, nominations were in order.

Dr. F. T. Shaw of Carroll county placed in nomination Frank Brown for Governor. He was declared the nominee by acclamation.

The other nominations, also made by acclamation amid enthusiasm, were: John P. Qoe of Baltimore, for Attorney General; J. Frank Ford of St. Mary's county, Clerk of the Court of Appeals; M. Diekalo Smith of Kent county, Comptroller.

The following is a synopsis of the Democratic platform:

The platform, after commending the candidates nominated, takes up matters of national interest and contrasts unfavorably the administration of President Harrison and the late Republican Congress, with the administration of President Cleveland and the Democratic Congress. It declares the Republican administration and Congress has disregarded the pledges of that party with regard to civil service reform and a reduction of taxes, incident to tariff. The civil service of the United States to-day, as a whole, it declares, is a partisan organization doing political service for the administration by which it is employed. President Harrison and the Republican Congress found on its advent to power, a large surplus in the treasury, left by an economical Democratic administration. The surplus, it says, was a plain tale to the people, demonstrating that the taxes imposed by the Republican administration are in excess of the needs of a government economically administered, and therefore unnecessary and unjust. In place of the reduction, which the people were led to expect, the finances of the government have been mismanaged, and a wild speculation and commercial disaster has followed in its track; the surplus was wasted in extravagant expenditure, and unjust and unnecessary taxation continued. The Republican party found on the advent of Harrison to office, a people no longer divided by sectional lines but prosperous and thoroughly united. The Republican party through the agency of its speaker had deprived the Democratic Representatives of their rightful seats and sought to perpetuate its power and destroy the autonomy of several States by means of the notorious Force bill. The Democratic party was deeply grateful to the Senators and Representatives who contributed to the defeat of that obnoxious measure, and more especially to Honorable Arthur H. Gorman, whose leadership contributed largely to the defeat. The existing tariff system, the platform declares, casts an unnecessary burden upon the people, tends to accumulate enormous wealth in the hands of a few and promote monopolies. These abuses it believes can only be corrected by the election of a President and Congress pledged to a careful and thorough revision of the tariff system. A dollar in gold coin and a dollar in silver coin should be of equal exchangeable value, the platform declares, "in all markets of the United States and any attempt to depreciate by legislation either of these matters ought to be deprecated and condemned." The platform closes with an endorsement of Senator Gorman for re-election by the next Assembly to the Senate.

Lane and Maurice Healy, members of Parliament for Cork, sailed from Liverpool yesterday for New York on board the steamship Majestic. At Queenstown to-day Emmett was presented with an address on behalf of the town commissioners.

Replying, Emmett said: "The Irish in America will always give material support to the party approved by the Irish people, but not a cent to a faction. If O'Brien and Dillon speak against Parnell, then the American apathy will disappear."

A First-class Power.

By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, July 30.—The Daily News says of the Columbian Exposition: Chicago, under the critical eye of her rival, New York, must succeed, for she cannot afford to fail. Gladstone's remarkable letter points out the importance of the scheme. There is no reason why he should not live to see America freed from the heaviest industrial fetters. That change is now imminent or political signs have lost their ordinary significance. The Fair will have the further result of putting America in the rank of first-class powers.

Get Rid of that Bad Taste.

When you wake up in the morning with a bad taste in your mouth, with your throat and tongue dry and a yellow coating on the teeth and gums, don't imagine it is all caused by what you ate the night before. Of course everybody does that and everybody "sweats off" from again eating such food. The trouble is that your liver is clogged, your kidneys are overworked and your bowels are not doing their duty. Take from three to ten of Brandreth's Pills and note the sudden and wonderful change in your system.

Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of 8 years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Calawaba, Ok., had five large Fever Sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at W. Pinniger's Drug Store.

NEWLANDS ON SILVER.

The Dishonest Dollar is Gold, Not Silver.

Francis G. Newlands Propounds Facts—Where Will the Boston Patriot Stand.

The Hon. Francis G. Newlands knocks a Boston preacher out in one round on the silver question in the following letter to the Boston Globe:

BAR HARBOR, July 13, 1891.
To the Editor of the Globe:—I observe in a Boston paper of July 6 a report of a sermon delivered by the Rev. Emory J. Haynes, pastor of the People's church, upon the subject of the "Republic's Debased Silver Dollar."

The reverend gentleman claims that the government is dishonest in issuing the present silver dollar; "that it is issuing a debased currency and compelling its subjects to utter a lie, to deal in a falsehood every time they spend a silver dollar." He claims that as a result of our use of a "debased currency," beggary and financial overthrow are coming.

I am inclined to agree with the reverend gentleman in his view that the question, whether the people's currency should be honest or dishonest, is a question of morals, and that the pulpit should never be silent on questions which involve the ethics of trade and right living.

But is the gentleman sure of the facts upon which he bases his eloquence, or is he as ignorant as our bankers and money lenders generally are of the history of the money question throughout the world, and of the principles of monetary science?

In order to ascertain this, let us ask the reverend gentleman a few questions. Does he know that prior to 1873 the only nations which were on a gold basis were Great Britain, Turkey and Portugal, and that all other nations, barbaric, as well as civilized, comprising nine-tenths, at least, of the population of the world, either used silver alone, or silver and gold, as money, and that prior to that year gold and silver had been from time immemorial the acknowledged money metals of the world?

Does he know that in 1873 our country possessed neither gold nor silver, that it was on a paper basis, that it was struggling toward specie resumption, which meant resumption in coin, either gold or silver, or both; that at that time nature, as if offering a special benefaction, exposed within our boundaries its richest mines; that at that time the silver in the silver dollar was worth three cents more than the gold in the gold dollar?

Does he know that in that year a long and voluminous bill for the regulation of the mints was passed, and that surreptitiously, clandestinely, without the knowledge of the legislators who passed it, save the few who were parties to the cruel act, without the knowledge of the President who signed the bill, silver was denied its constitutional right of free coinage in our mints; that thus our country rejected the benefaction which nature offered, surrendering itself to the domination of the gold trust, and threw its silver bullion, of which it was the largest producer, on the other countries of the world for absorption?

Does he know that the bill of 1873, when its value was three cents more than the gold in the gold dollar, and that the bullion value of the gold in the gold dollar will now purchase from 30 to 50 per cent. more of all products than it would in 1873; that by legislation the value of gold has been increased, just as the value of wheat would be increased by laws preventing the use of oats, corn and other cereals?

How would the gentleman characterize the action of a trust if it should by legislation compel the discontinuance of the use of all other food products, and what would he think of its logic, if, when the reversal of the laws was being agitated, it should insist that the unused products were valueless, and therefore should not be restored to use?

Does not the gentleman know that value depends on demand and use, and that the latter being restored value will be restored?

Does he know that the demonetization of silver caused an increased demand for gold as money, increased the bullion value of the latter and made the number of grains of gold in the gold dollar more valuable than the number of grains of silver in the silver dollar; that the dishonest legislation and legislation alone, its value and purchasing power have been increased; that this was done for the benefit of the money-owning and money-lending classes, the owners of the obligations of nations, municipalities, corporations and individuals, and that it has worked a great wrong to the wealth creating class, the producers, the men of enterprise, the borrowers of money, by whom, as a rule, enterprises are conducted, compelling them to give money-owning and money-lending class the benefit of the change; to what extent the supply of gold is insufficient for the world's money, as evidenced by the fact that the world has not found both gold and silver in sufficient quantities, and has been compelled to create one-third of its money from paper?

Let him trace the history of the world's progress, advancing when the output of the mines was generous, retarded when the output was scanty, and let him slowly study whether try, and that for that depression and the thousands of bankruptcies created by it, the gold trust, eager to demonstrate silver in order to make gold more valuable, is responsible?

Does the reverend gentleman know that as the result of our refusal to accept the money which Nature provided us in our silver mines, we were compelled to borrow hundreds of millions of gold from England, that gold being invested in the obligations of railroads, of municipalities, and of the nation itself, and that England, herself on the verge of financial panic, because of the scarcity of her gold reserves, is now calling for money by the sale of her securities, and is threatening this country with another panic, depression and bankruptcy, caused by a contraction of the money volume?

Does the gentleman know that the only thing that has saved this country during the past year from universal bankruptcy has been the silver certificates issued by the United States, based upon over $500,000,000 worth of silver purchased by the government?

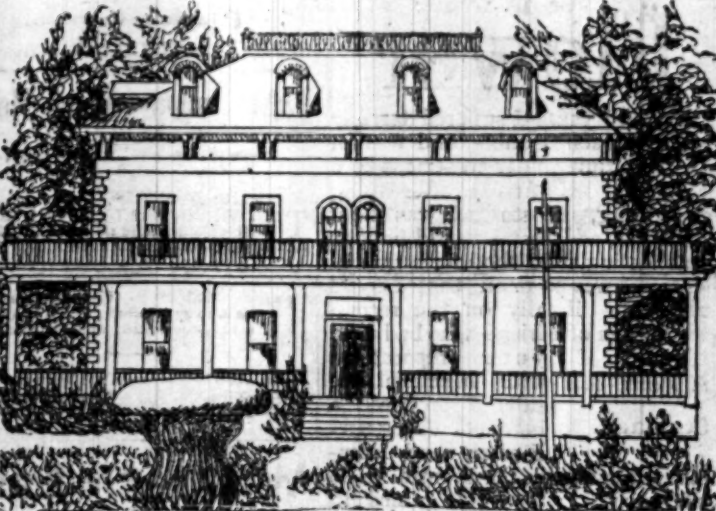

Does the gentleman know that there can be a famine of money as well as of food?

What would he think if the nations of the world should decree that the only food supply should be wheat? And yet this is what is being done by the decree of the United States, followed by the civilized nations of Europe, that the world, which has since the dawn of civilization relied on silver and gold as the money of ultimate redemption, shall hereafter rely on gold alone?

CAN THE GENTLEMAN PROVE That there is sufficient gold in the world to supply it with money? Does he know that its quantity is constantly diminishing, that the output of the mines is diminishing and that a larger proportion of gold is constantly being used in the arts and in dentistry and thus taken away from the money volume?

Does he know that it has always been the effort of the money lenders to make money dear; that after the gold mines of California and Australia were discovered in 1850, a concerted effort was made by the financial writers of Europe to cause the demonetization of gold, because they feared it would become too plentiful, and that two or three powerful nations of Europe actually did demonetize gold, among them Germany, which from 1857 to 1873 was on a purely silver basis?

Does the gentleman know that the money lenders of the world have discovered a new form of slavery, which consists in diminishing the money of ultimate redemption by demonetizing one of the affiliated metals and thus making the other worth twice as much as it was before?

Bowers' Mansion, in Washoe Valley—From a photograph by the GAZETTE Special Artist.

Does he know that under this condition of things the farmer, in order to pay his debts, is compelled to deliver twice as much of wheat and oats and corn, that the obligation of every debtor is increased, and that the prices of commodities are diminished?

Which, then, is the dishonest act, the act of 1873 which demonetized and overthrew silver and increased the value of credits to the creditors and increased the burden of all obligations to the debtors, or the act of 1878 and 1888, providing for the limited use of silver or the proposed free coinage act of 1892, which will restore conditions as they existed prior to 1873?

Shall our country, having committed a grievous wrong against humanity, fail to rectify it because other nations have followed her bad example, or shall she, exercising the courage of her convictions, reverse the wrong and abandon the undignified position of surreptitiously begging the imitators of her perfidy to join her?

Does the gentleman wish the money famine to continue?

Does he not see the nations of Europe reaching out for gold, each taking it from the other, each apprehensive that its store may be diminished, each conscious that it is upon the verge of bankruptcy because of insufficient gold in its bank reserves?

But great wrongs have always had their defenders in the pulpit. African slavery was there defended. It is to the credit of the Boston pulpit that it has uniformly stood for human liberty and the rights of man.

But we have now a system of slavery worse than that of African slavery, a system which is about to drive into ruin and bankruptcy thousands and millions of people—the slaves of the gold kings of Europe and their representatives in New York, Boston, Chicago and the other money centers of this country. Is the reverend gentleman to be its defender?

And now let me suggest to the reverend gentleman that he inquire into the history of gold and silver, and that he ascertain to what extent the gold dollar of to-day is a dishonest dollar, to what extent its purchasing power has been increased by the destructive legislation against silver; to what extent the debt of every debtor has been increased; to what extent the producing classes have been injured and the non-producing and money-owning class benefited by the change; to what extent the supply of gold is insufficient for the world's money, as evidenced by the fact that the world has not found both gold and silver in sufficient quantities, and has been compelled to create one-third of its money from paper.

Let him trace the history of the world's progress, advancing when the output of the mines was generous, retarded when the output was scanty, and let him slowly study whether brutal legislation, dictated by greed and avarice, may not, by artificially limiting the generosity of the mines, reproduce the darkness, ignorance and despair of the middle ages, which Hallam declared was the result of nature's parsimony, when gold and silver for centuries lay hid in her innermost recesses, unresponsive to the search or labor of man.

And I trust that as the result of his investigations we shall find the pastor of the People's Church the defender of the people's money, honest money, gold and silver to be used as they have been from the earliest times, as freely as nature provided.

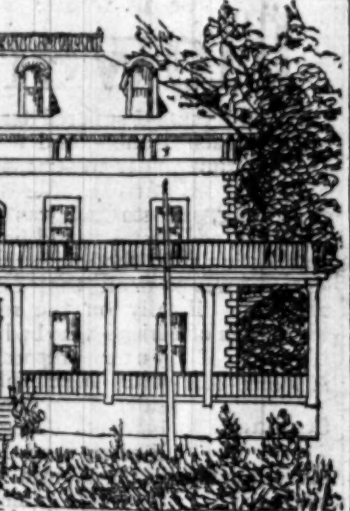

And let me further indulge the hope that we will then have the reverend gentleman's talents enlisted in the proper elucidation of the money question, upon the solution of which as much as any question of religion or morals, depends the welfare and advancement of mankind.

Respectfully yours,
Vice-Chairman National Silver Committee.

BOWERS' MANSION.

A Relic of Early Times in Washoe County

Bowers' Mansion is as much a part of Washoe county's history as is the court-house. It was built under the shades of old Mount Rose in Washoe Valley by "Sandy" Bowers, in 1861, at a cost of $400,000, and furnished elaborately from the studios and workshops of Europe at a cost of over $100,000 more. The out of the "mansion" published to-day gives the reader a good idea of the famous land mark and shows that beneath the exterior of old "Sandy" that he had an eye for the beautiful. "Sandy" was a typical "Coal Oil Tommy" in his way, and spared no expense to make the "mansion" all that a comfortable home should be. He laid out elaborate

TRAIN'S BIG CATCH.

The Celebrated Globe Trotter's Experience in the Columbia River.

A Remarkable Tale by a Remarkable Man—His First Venture in the Salmon Fishing Business.

George Francis Train, while at Portland recently, told a friend some of the incidents of a visit he paid this state many years ago, away back early in the '70's, says the Portland Oregonian. He said he was the first one to discover salmon in the Columbia, and caught two hundred and sixty-four in a day, and carried them across the Columbia, walking on the backs of the salmon which crowded the river; also that he learned the Chinook jargon in fifteen minutes. Like most of the reminiscences of bygone days in Oregon, there is some foundation for these statements, but still they vary somewhat from the facts in the case. A correct account, therefore, of Mr. Train's exploits in catching salmon and studying Chinook jargon will be found interesting.

It was somewhere about '64 or '66 when Mr. Train first came out here, just after a Fenian scare in Canada. It was when he took a run across the line to Victoria, and the long roll of the British drums was heard, and the troops were called out, sentries doubled, and detectives kept a watch over every more he made while he was on British territory. Mr. Train had aspirations of the presidency in those days, and a gentleman here has a photograph of him, presented by Mr. Train himself, on the back of which is written an invitation for the recipient to meet the donor in the white house when he should be elected president. While here Mr. Train visited The Dalles, on the invitation of Capt. J. C. Ainsworth, and made his first acquaintance with the Chinook salmon and Chinook jargon in their native wilds. This was long before a can of salmon had been put up on the Columbia, and when the only salmon fisheries on the river were those of the Indians at the Cascades and at The Dalles. Mr. Train was to address the citizens of The Dalles in the church, and the day before paid a visit to a salmon fishery in the rapids below Celilo. He admired the easy, graceful manner in which an Indian, standing on a frail platform, hung over a narrow chute, plunged his dipnet into the foaming current, and lifted the salmon out on the rocks, and he wished to try his hand. The Indian endeavored to dissuade him, telling him that he would "killapi copu chuk"—that is, fall into the river; but Mr. Train insisted, and the Indian politely yielded up his net and stand, and Mr. Train stepped out on the platform, net in hand.

Never before since the Columbia forced its way through the Cascades had such a spectacle been presented to the Chinook salmon. Mr. Train wore a green broadcloth swallowtail coat with brass buttons, a tall silk hat, satin vest and ruffled shirt. As he passed his net for a "scop" he was the observed of all observers. He scooped, and a large Chinook salmon was caught in his net, but instead of pulling it out, it pulled him in, and before one could say "Jack Robinson" Mr. Train was being whirled away like a cork in the swift current. Several Indians, who had evidently expected this, immediately jumped in, and fortunately succeeded in dragging Mr. Train ashore. His tall hat was dancing like a bubble down the current, but a lot of young Indians scampered after it and soon brought it back. Mr. Train was not to be balked by his mishap, and when he peeled off his coat, vest, etc., he took a lesson in Chinook and found out what "killapi copu chuk" meant. Having stripped down to his ruffled shirt and laid his garments out in the sun to dry, he again took the net, and, telling his friends to go back to The Dalles and send up an engine for him at five p. m., he stepped out on the platform and fished all day. When the engine came after him he wished to take the salmon to town with him to ornament the rostrum from which he was to speak that evening, but was dissuaded from this on the ground that it would not look well in a church.

He delivered a lecture that evening in which he complimented the pioneers on their bravery and fortitude in immigrating to this section, and told them that, while they were seeking for gold in the mountains and hoping to get wealth from their herds of cattle, which ranged on ten thousand hills, there was immense wealth swimming past their doors unnoticed. He then predicted that in a few years the salmon of the Columbia would be owned and exported to the uttermost ends of the earth, and would become one of the great products of this state, all of which has become true.

OF A SCIENTIFIC FLAVOR.
MODERN humanity has larger heads and shorter legs than the ancients. SCIENTISTS have demonstrated that it is possible to change every gas into liquid form. It is simply a question of securing the proper temperature and pressure.

A BUTTERFLY captured in the Sierras was sold to the Smithsonian institution for one thousand five hundred dollars. It was an individual of a fossil species, supposed to be extinct.

It is a mistake to suppose that polar research has cost enormously in human life. Despite all the great disasters, ninety-seven out of every one hundred explorers have returned alive.

Tax ofomometer recently exhibited to the Academy of Sciences in Paris is a little apparatus for testing the smelling powers of individuals. It determines the weight of odorous vapor in a cubic centimeter of air which is perceptible by the olfactory sense of a person.

Four different mountain peaks in Idaho are from thirteen to twenty-three feet lower, by actual measurement, than they were fifteen years ago, and it is believed that this settling is going on with many others. The idea is that quicksands have undermined them.

THE meanest man to date has just been sent to the convict penitentiary from Chicago. His name is Charles Perkins and his crime is grand larceny for the theft of his dead brother's clothing, including a pin and cuff buttons, which he took from the corpse.

GERMAN MYSTERY.

The Queer Little Beds and Bedclothes of That Country.

German beds have always been at once a trial and a mystery. That a race by no means short should delight in stunted bedsteads has puzzled many a French and British traveler in the Fatherland. Not less mysterious is the narrowness of the bedstead.

When one compares the figure of the more substantial burghers of a German town with the receptacle provided for their accommodation at night, no effort of the imagination will make them contemporaneous; it is certain that the flesh must overlap the feathers. Then the bedclothes are a trial, consisting, as they do, in summer of a blanket with a sheet buttoned to its under surface, in winter of an eider-down quilt inclosed in a cotton bag.

Neither can be tucked in or secured in any way, and only a born Teuton knows the art of retaining them in position.

Most mysterious of all is the triangular section of a mattress which is placed at the head of the bed, and which forms, perhaps, the most effective obstacle in the repose of a foreigner. All this seems to have been much the same in the days before the railway.

A traveler thus naively describes and explains the German beds of 1820: "Tall people cannot sleep comfortably in any part of Germany; the beds, which are very narrow, being placed in wooden frames or boxes, so short that any person who happens to be above five feet high must absolutely sit up all night supported by pillows, and this is, in fact, the way in which the Germans sleep." Doubtless his explanation is the correct one; but those who are not accustomed to sleep in a sedentary posture can rest in such a bed at all only by assuming the shape of the last letter of the alphabet—Jury.

An Old Acquaintance.
A dissipated old man applied at the quartermaster's office in San Antonio, Tex., for a position as clerk. "Do you know anything about general management of the office?" asked the officer.

"Do I know anything about Gen. Management? I should smile. I knew him when he was a lieutenant."—Texas Sittings.

"I have nothing more to say," said she, as he started home in the rejection. "I am glad," said he. "I wish you had said less."—Harper's Bazar.

"August Flower"
For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations with beneficial results, I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDERICK, Sauterites, New York.

W. B. Utsey, St. George's, S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.
